Your Favorite Football Theme

A survey was posted on the North Scott fan page on Facebook for students to vote for their favorite football game themes. Out of the 45 people that completed the survey, the results showed that Lancer Fans like the "Neon Out" theme the most due to the largest percent age of students favoring this. "Neon Out" recieved 29.73% of the votes with "Camo Out" coming in second with 18.92%. The yearbook staff chose to survey this theme as a fun way to find out what our Lancer Fans have the most fun with.

@clubs

The best part of being in a club is the bond you make with your team. It's awesome to be in a club and know what you're supposed to do, but it's more fun to make it up as you go along.

Home Building

Built By Students...

Home Building is an elective class that students may take after completing three years of woodworking classes including: Intro to Tech, Woods 1 and Carpentry. This is a college class sponsored by Scott Community College. Students receive college credits, as well as high school credit. This is a great class for anyone going into the trades and those just learning a little bit about home improvement. This is a year long course and students build a house throughout the year. This class sets students up for future trades like H.V.A.C., plumbing, and any type of construction trade. It is all hands-on learning and is a very beneficial class. Throughout this class, students learn anything, from roofing to plumbing. Many of the students enrolled in this course enjoy it and would recommend it to anyone.

Times Have Changed

In 1961, North Scott Lancer's uniforms were very different. The shorts were shorter and jerseys didn't say "Lancers" on front.

In 2013, uniforms have made many improvements and shorts are longer.

In 1961, FFA was an all boys organization. There was FFA for boys and FHA (Future Housewives of America) for girls.

In 2013, FFA is now an organization involving boys and girls. You don't have to be a boy to be involved in FFA.

In 1961, football players' uniforms had stripes on the arms and were more simple.

In 2013, football uniforms have slightly changed. Uniforms stand out more and the stripes have been modified.

In 1961, cheerleading uniforms were very conservative. The uniforms included long skirts and sweaters.

In 2013, cheerleading uniforms have made many improvements by adding more Lancer spirit to the uniforms.

SpeeEch

1. Stacie and Becca take a super quick break from their busy schedules. They've worked together all of this year to coach seventeen large group events. Fourteen of those actually made their way to State in Cedar Rapids, Iowa and four of those events got All State nominations.
2. Harmoni Eiland, Anthony Curlott, & Muriel Francis-Hoyle start the day off at districts with a BANG! Leaving the judge with little to complain about, their performance in Chicago was a fantastic way to start the day.
3. Carly Twigg, Maria Leik, Anna Marceau, and Maddie Lane were this year's mimers! They all worked together to create three different mime events and veteran Anna Marceau coached each group to know what the judges would be expecting.
4. Dan Stutting, Zach Wilford, & Kevin Knoer show off their Improv skills before they perform at districts. At showcase they improvised a skit where the three of them took on the roles of a used car sales man, a zombie, and Super Man! Also, at districts they performed an improvised skit in slow motion.
5. Alex Karnish, Kelsey Kaasa, and Lydia King group together before playing their radio broadcast in front of their judges.
6. Dan Stutting and Aaron Carman fool around before loading on to the bus to return home from Pizza ranch.
7. Taylor Gehrls and Amanda Amhof take an ice cream break between watching our speechies perform!
8. Mercedes Feldmann & Jessica Day pose for a picture during a delicious team dinner at Pizza Ranch.
9. Freshman speeEchies Alli Stutting, and Harmoni Eiland sing together between acts at districts.

Morning Star

Mitch Miller, Victoria Griffiths, Christine Hultquist, and Trent Dailey work on stories to submit to the Morning Star.

Ms. Smith helps Victoria Griffiths with her poem.

Christine Hultquist uses a simile book to help her with her next Morning Star submission.

Morning Star Staff

1 >>

Ms. Smith

"When I started working here I inherited the Morning Star. I really love doing this. I also love to write and help the students get better at their writing."

2 >>

Zach Wilford

"I was interested in joining the Morning Star because over the summer I did an internship. I like doing this because I get to read a lot of other peoples' writing and get to look at really great art."

3 >>

Kelly Kupris

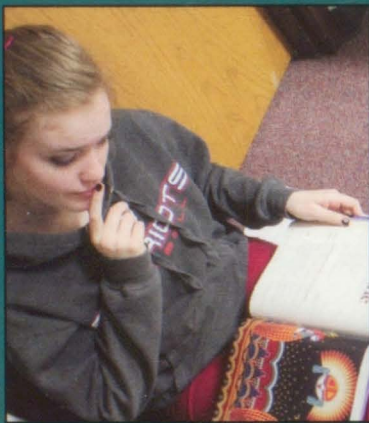

"I like poetry and sci fi fantasy. Music is also my passion and poetry and Sci fi are another great way for the arts to be shown. The arts do not get as much publicity as athletics; the Morning Star is a great way for these talents to be seen."

4 >>

Ryan Scott

"I love to read and this gives me a chance to read others' work. It also helps me find great new ideas for my own writing. I get to meet cool new people."

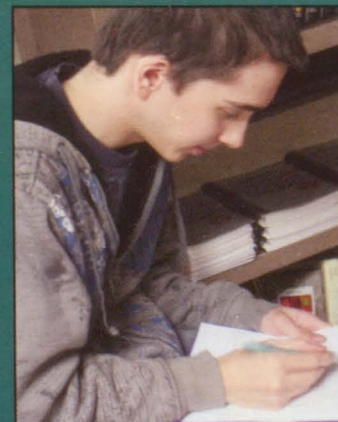

Victoria Griffiths studies simile so she can use it in her writing.

Carly Twigg takes a moment to smile during her study group.

Bethany Cronise, Kylie Mitchell, Carly Twigg, Taylor Gee, and Steph Konrady write poetry in a group.

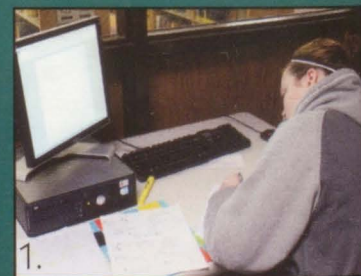

Mitch Miller works on a poem for the Morning Star.
